2. To provide necessary support, please see the Entertainment EHS Summary attached
3. Summary provides vital information in notifying EHS Team of upcoming projects

Entertainment EHS Summary

Health and Safety Plan

- EHS should be notified of all productions within a timely manner
- All productions should have a Health and Safety Plan created and should be distributed to all crew members in the Call Sheet prior to the start of production
- EHS will create and distribute all safety documents to production team before production start date, outlining expectations while on location
    - Emergency Responders (nearest fire dept, police station, hospital)
    - Evacuation Areas
    - Emergency Contacts
    - High risk activities and how to mitigate
    - General safety rules
- Any activities outside of the normal process, please alert your FOX EHS Team so we can complete an assessment if necessary

Emergency Action Plan

- All productions should have an Emergency Action Plan and it should be posted on-site of the production, in a visible area to all
- EHS will create and distribute all safety documents to production team before production start date, outlining expectations while on location
- Emergency Action Plan will list:
  - Production details – start/end date, number of crew and guests
  - Event location
  - Emergency responders
  - Assembly areas in case of evacuation
  - General Safety Rules for all employees on production premises
  - System for storing and viewing SDSs for all chemicals and products used on production premises (MSDS Online)

EMERGENCY ACTION PLAN SUMMARY

test

1. Always call local 9-1-1 when in doubt to summon emergency services.
2. Follow emergency procedures outlined in plans specific to your location (e.g., Ops and/or venue EAPs).
3. Call the Hotline at 1-866-FOX-CABLE or 866-369-2225, Option 9 to report a hazard, incident, or emergency.
4. You will be required to participate in the incident investigation process.
5. If the incident is a security concern, contact the Fox Security 24/7 Operations Center at 310-369-6555.
